ABOUT PPFA

Planned Parenthood* Federation of America, Inc., is the world's largest and most trusted voluntary reproductive health care organization. Founded by Margaret Sanger in 1916 as America's first birth control clinic, Planned Parenthood believes in everyone's right to choose when or whether to have a child, that every child should be wanted and loved, and that women should be in charge of their own destinies.

Every year, nearly 21,000 affiliate volunteers and staff provide sexual and reproductive health care, education, and information to nearly five million women, men, and teens in the U.S. More than one million Planned Parenthood donors and activists also serve as advocates for sexual and reproductive rights. Separately incorporated, the Planned Parenthood Action Fund fortifies our commitment through lobbying and voter education.

We address family planning needs in developing countries through our international programs, Family Planning International Assistance* (FPIA) and Planned Parenthood Global Partners* (PPGP); and through our membership in the International Planned Parenthood Federation. Private-sector contributions, patient fees, government grants, and third-party reimbursements support our programs and services.

A not-for-profit organization, PPFA maintains national offices in New York City, San Francisco, Chicago, and Washington, DC. Our 126 affiliates manage 875 health centers in 49 states and the District of Columbia. FPIA maintains three regional offices — Nairobi, Kenya, for Africa; Bangkok, Thailand, for Asia and the Pacific; and Miami, for Latin America and the Caribbean.

We enhance our mission by supporting a special affiliate, The Alan Guttmacher Institute (AGI), an independent, not-for-profit corporation for reproductive health research, policy analysis, and public education.
PUTTING OUR VISION INTO ACTION: A DIALOGUE

PPFA President GLORIA FELDT:
When it comes to acting on the Planned Parenthood Vision for 2025, I'm reminded of what President John F. Kennedy said when he set in motion his vision for putting a human being on the moon: "We don't do these things because they are easy but because they are hard."

PPFA Chairperson ALFREDO VIGIL, M.D.:
Yes, those are very challenging words. The easy thing would be for us to put our 10 vision goals in a file someplace, pat ourselves on the back, and then forget about them. But that's not the Planned Parenthood way.

GF: The hard thing is to implement our vision. It requires an action plan for each goal and constant oversight, which is how we made progress on all 10 goals this year. For example, we saw successes on the legislative front, which is the purview of Goal Three. Twenty states now require health insurance companies to cover contraception if they cover prescription drugs, and our activism helped to defeat the appointment of anti-choice Judge Charles Pickering and, most recently, anti-choice Justice Priscilla Owen. Alfredo, you've identified Goal Six as an area of special concern for you. What is Planned Parenthood doing to achieve that goal?

AV: We're trying to increase diversity among those who head our affiliates. We have multiple strategies to develop a cadre of candidates of color and we want to build relationships with search firms that target and provide diverse candidates. We also want to improve retention. We were very proud that this program got visibility in The Nonprofit Quarterly this summer.

GF: Yes, and that article pointed out that increasing diversity is not only the right and just thing to do, but it also brings more supporters to our table. This relates to Goal Nine — that Planned Parenthood will have the largest donor and activist base of any social movement in the country.

AV: Many local donors want affiliates to increase access to services for clients, which is Goal Two, and we have — for two years in a row. As a physician, I'm also concerned with the challenges of funding and supplying contraceptives.

GF: I know you also have an interest in Goal Eight, which deals with bioethics. As you know, our medical team, including bio-ethicists, is creating a position paper on the ethics of new reproductive technologies, including reproductive cloning. Planned Parenthood will be the voice of reason on bioethics and technology, not jumping to support or reject any advances before the science is sound. We also will be a fount of knowledge for a public that is eager for reliable information.

AV: That's one of our goals with a decidedly future feel to it. The same could be said for Goal Five — Planned Parenthood will control its own media company.

GF: As our media people know only too well, we're often dealing with media that are misinformed at best and biased at worst. We're censored today just as Margaret Sanger was in her day. Controlling our own media company will give us a chance to bring the Planned Parenthood message and our top-notch educational materials to the widest possible audience in the most accessible way.

AV: I can say from my experience as a Planned Parenthood volunteer in New Mexico and at the national level, that we are well on our way to achieving Goal 10 — Planned Parenthood will be acknowledged as one of the 10 best places to work and volunteer.

GF: Planned Parenthood staff and volunteers are dedicated, hardworking, and creative. The reason our Vision Goals will be realized is that we have the people to make it happen.

CREATING HOPE FOR HUMANITY - THE PLANNED PARENTHOOD VISION FOR 2025

Our work — creating hope for humanity — has been marked by courage, passion, dedication, endurance, and vision. Just a little over a year ago, the federation adopted a bold and beautiful Vision. At its core is a promise to the world — envisioning a world in which people are free to make life’s most profound choices about childbearing and relationships as they see fit.

Our promise is to create the will, the technology, and the enduring political and legal structures to make this Vision a reality.

Our Vision for 2025 includes 13 belief statements to rely upon as we move forward into the 21st century and pursue our Goals:

▼ We believe in the right to sexual and reproductive self-determination that is non-coercive, non-exploitative, and responsible.
▼ We believe that the free and joyous expression of one’s own sexuality is central to being fully human.
▼ We believe in trusting individuals and providing them with the information they need to make well-informed decisions about sexuality, family planning, and childbearing.
▼ We believe that women should have an equal place at life’s table, and be respected as moral decision makers.
▼ We believe that children flourish best in families and communities where they are nurtured, honored, and loved.
▼ We believe in passion — for change, for justice, for easing the plight of others, for caring, for living our convictions, and for confronting inhumane acts.
▼ We believe in action — to make things happen and to improve people’s lives and circumstances.
▼ We believe in inclusion and diversity — and the power and knowledge they confer.
▼ We believe the future is global and that we are part of a global movement.
▼ We believe in the urgency of creating a sustainable world and living in peace with our planet.
▼ We believe in leadership based upon collaboration rather than hierarchy.
▼ We believe in acting courageously, especially as allies with those who have little or no voice and little or no power.
▼ We believe that every right is tied to responsibility and that the fulfillment of responsibility is itself a source of joy.

This annual report outlines how we have been working toward the 10 audacious Vision Goals that we are committed to make happen in the next quarter-century.
GOAL I

Planned Parenthood will ensure that sexuality is understood as an essential, lifelong aspect of being human and that it is celebrated with respect, openness, and mutuality.

IN PURSUIT OF GOAL I,

PPFA helps people make responsible choices about their sexuality and parenthood by offering comprehensive, medically accurate sexuality information in the classroom, community and health centers, and houses of worship, and through an ever-increasing and acclaimed presence on the World Wide Web.

Some National Organization Activities
By developing resources, conducting professional training, and providing technical assistance and consultation, the national organization leads and supports a nationwide network of more than 870 affiliate educators. Last year, we

- partnered with Scenarios USA to sponsor What’s the Real Deal?, a movie-writing contest for which youth around the country were invited to write short scripts about sexuality. Directors Michael Apted and Tamara Jenkins and the contest winners turned the scripts into short films.
- developed What’s New in Sexuality Education? a monthly electronic newsletter distributed at home and abroad to more than 1,000 diverse subscribers, including sexuality educators, trainers, physicians, nurses, public policy analysts, parents, and students
- produced the reproductive and sexual health Language and Culture Resource Lists in Bosnian/Croatian/Serbian, Russian, Spanish, and Vietnamese
- led a coalition of 59 national organizations in support of National Family Sexuality Education Month in October
- published family and peer education program guides for program development and implementation
- trained more than 1,600 professionals on topics from program evaluation to involving boys in reproductive and sexual health services

Some Affiliate Activities
Last year, Planned Parenthood affiliate educators reached more than a million Americans — young people, parents, civic and business leaders, teachers, social workers, and counselors — with comprehensive, age-appropriate sexuality education programs on birth control, sexually transmitted infections, safer sex, teen pregnancy prevention, puberty, relationship skills, life options, delaying intercourse, parent-child communication, and many other topics.

- The Heart to Heart program, conducted in English, Spanish, Haitian Creole, and American Sign Language, taught communication and negotiation skills and self-esteem building to help teens delay sexual involvement and prevent unintended pregnancy and sexually transmitted infections (Planned Parenthood League of Massachusetts).
Growing Together helped nine-to-11-year-old Latina girls and their caregivers develop communication skills and learn about the physical, emotional, and social aspects of sexuality, foster effective parent-child communication, and help reduce teen pregnancy (Planned Parenthood Los Angeles).

The FAITH program introduced reproductive and sexual health information into the spiritual growth and enrichment programs of local faith-based organizations, empowering young people and families to become informed and take responsibility for life choices related to their sexuality (Planned Parenthood of the Palm Beach and Treasure Coast Area).

Rights. Respect. Responsibility. — Teen Sexuality: Lessons from Europe advocated for policies and programs that are based on successful European approaches to adolescent sexual behavior and responsibility and contribute to the lower rates of teen pregnancy in many European countries (Planned Parenthood Health Services of Southwestern Oregon).

The Katharine Dexter McCormick Library
The Katharine Dexter McCormick Library serves the research and information needs of PPFA staff and volunteers nationwide, as well as researchers, other sexual health professionals from around the world, journalists, students, and the general public. Last year the library drew from its collection of 6,000 books, 22,500 articles, pamphlets, journals, and historic photographs and videotapes to respond to more than 2,500 requests for information and to publish fact sheets, bibliographies, and resource listings.

GOAL 2
Planned Parenthood will ensure access to reproductive and sexual health care for all.

IN PURSUIT OF GOAL 2
PPFA strives to preserve and expand access to the full range of reproductive health care services by providing them directly and advocating in communities, courts, state legislatures, and Congress to make sure services are available.

Some National Organization Activities
We continued our efforts in the courts to protect and defend the reproductive rights of women. Last year we obtained

- victories in federal and state courts to allow the opening of a new Planned Parenthood health center in Manchester, NH
- dismissal of a lawsuit that sought to require PPFA to misinform clients that abortion causes breast cancer
- victory in the Federal Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit, which ruled that anti-abortion protesters had engaged in threats of violence and intimidation by, among other things, publishing “wanted posters” of abortion providers
- a second victory in the Missouri Supreme Court in the ongoing battle to set aside the state legislature’s denial of family planning funds to Planned Parenthood affiliates
- a permanent injunction against unconstitutional provisions of Idaho’s mandatory parental consent law
To offer security and protect our clients, staff, and volunteers from anti-choice violence, last year we
- conducted evacuation drills for the national offices following the September 11 terrorist attacks
- provided assistance to affiliates and leadership to law enforcement and the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention in the face of two rounds of anthrax threat letters to more than 250 health centers
- conducted staff trainings and security surveys and provided telephone and on-site technical assistance for 30 affiliates
- held two security conferences for 100 affiliate security coordinators
- increased the number of background checks for new hires, volunteers, and interns throughout the federation

The national organization worked to strengthen collaboration with affiliates, provided them with superlative technical assistance, training, and consulting services, and helped them once again increase access to services for clients through
- a new accreditation process
- a faster and "first-on-the-block" implementation of medical services through changes in medical standards and guidelines
- approval of the affiliation of Planned Parenthood of Hawaii

Preserving Title X
PPFA helped achieve a funding increase of $12 million, for a total of $265 million, for Title X, America's family planning program, despite anti-family planning efforts to cripple the program. By subsidizing contraceptive services, basic ob/gyn care, screening for sexually transmitted infections, and pregnancy testing and referrals for millions of low-income women and teenagers, Title X prevents hundreds of thousands of unintended pregnancies and saves millions of tax dollars each year.
GOAL 3

Planned Parenthood will secure passage of laws and policies, including state and federal constitutional amendments that guarantee reproductive freedom for all.

IN PURSUIT OF GOAL 3,

Last year PPFA and our activists (see Goal Nine) helped secure legislative advances and make significant progress toward three priorities of our legislative agenda:

▼ Sex Education — PPFA helped develop the first-ever introduced federal legislation for funding comprehensive sex education — the Family Life Education Act.

▼ Emergency Contraception (EC) — PPFA helped shape two federal bills that, if passed, will make EC more available throughout the nation:
  • The Emergency Contraception Education Act would provide funding to help educate health care providers and their clients about EC.
  • The Companionship Care for Female Sexual Assault Survivors Act would require hospitals to offer EC to survivors of rape and incest.

▼ Contraceptive Equity — After winning the landmark Erickson v. Bartell decision in 2001, we continued our campaign to ensure that contraceptives are covered under health insurance plans in the same manner as other prescription medications and devices. We have helped pass legislation in 20 states and, starting with a Senate hearing last September, we continue to move along federal Equity in Prescription Insurance and Contraceptive Coverage Act legislation.

▼ Washington State affiliates helped pass legislation that required hospitals providing emergency care to sexual assault survivors to also provide accurate unbiased information about EC and to provide the treatment immediately upon request.

Protecting Roe
The U.S. Supreme Court's 1973 Roe v. Wade decision hangs on a razor-thin (one-vote) majority in today's U.S. Supreme Court and is threatened by the appointment of anti-choice judges to the lower courts and eventually to the Supreme Court itself. In response, we launched an urgent campaign to save Roe and have ▼ raised public awareness through print advertisements and an action-packed Web site, www.saveRoe.com, which has received 100,000 visitors

▼ defeated, with support from our Action Network and a delegation of Planned Parenthood affiliate constituents, the nomination of anti-choice Judge Charles Pickering, to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit

▼ educated diverse constituencies through partnerships with progressive organizations such as the National Council of Negro Women and the National Council of Jewish Women

▼ informed and recruited pro-choice Republicans through our Planned Parenthood Republicans for Choice* program — the premier organization for pro-choice Republicans

Statewide Partnerships
PPFA and affiliates from 18 states have come together through the Federation-wide Campaign and the Pro-Choice Organizing Project to preserve and expand access to all reproductive health care services and to urge the pro-choice majority of Americans to voice their views. Starting with intensive planning sessions to identify state goals and develop effective strategies — and with grants in seven states provided by the Pro-Choice Organizing Project — we advanced Goal Three. Last year

▼ Arizona, Massachusetts, and New York State affiliates passed contraceptive equity bills, bringing to 20 the number of states that require gender equity in health benefits.

GOAL 4

Planned Parenthood will ensure worldwide implementation of a human rights and well-being agenda as currently expressed in the Cairo Agreement, with the U.S. fulfilling its financial commitment and implementing those principles in the U.S.

PLANNED PARENTHOOD

agrees with the nations and nongovernmental organizations (NGOs) that signed on to the Cairo Agreement that reproductive and sexual health is both a private, personal matter and a pressing global issue that affects the lives of all people. Access to voluntary contraception and comprehensive reproductive health care is integral to global efforts to protect the environment, essential to many nations' hopes for economic development, necessary for the health of women and their families, central to improving the lives and status of women, and a key ingredient in achieving the progress and population stability within societies that are our best hope for global peace and security.

In pursuit of Goal Four, PPFA's Family Planning International Assistance (FPIA) supported sexual and reproductive health programs in Africa, Asia, and Latin America and the Caribbean. FPIA works with NGOs to reach underserved populations and provide:

- sexuality education and contraceptive services to adolescents
- safe abortion and post-abortion care
- reproductive health services to women in crisis situations

Last year

- in Asia, FPIA projects in India, Myanmar, the Philippines, Thailand, and Vietnam provided contraceptive services to thousands of youth under the age of 25; ongoing sexuality and reproductive health education programs served thousands more. FPIA also provided emergency support to the Family Planning Association of Nepal, after it lost funding due to the global gag rule, and provided additional support to the successful campaign to legalize abortion there. In Myanmar, a grant from The David and Lucile Packard Foundation assisted new post-abortion care projects.
- in Africa, 10 new FPIA projects were launched in Sudan and Nigeria. A new project in Kenya expanded access to services by training cadres of providers in home-based care for HIV/AIDS patients, post-abortion care, and contraceptive services for adolescents. FPIA, with the Ford Foundation, hosted a second adolescent conference for countries throughout Africa, and established a youth reproductive health advocacy network that works to enlist the support of religious leaders - the Network for Youth and Adolescents in Africa, which is active in eight countries.
- in Latin America and the Caribbean, FPIA provided assistance to 23 NGOs for sexual health services, including contraception, and also supported the work of 1,600 youth.
peer educators. Clinic-based projects provided many reproductive health services, including safe and legal abortion and post-abortion care. FPPI also supported a national service-provider training program and several advocacy initiatives — three Youth Leadership Networks and a reproductive health provider support network involving 22 activists from 11 organizations.

Planned Parenthood Global Partners’ (PPGP) pursued Goal Four by delivering on the promise made three years ago at its creation to improve reproductive health services in the U.S. and around the world and to build a U.S. constituency for international family planning. What started out as a simple idea has grown to touch almost every affiliate, providing resources to ensure that Planned Parenthood is a global leader in reproductive health and rights.

In the past year PPGP

▼ met our original goal to involve one-third of all Planned Parenthood affiliates in international partnerships with reproductive health providers in other nations

▼ educated Americans about global reproductive health and rights through community events, outreach to activists, and advertisements and public service announcements in print and on television and radio, as well as on bus stops and college campuses. For example, during the Salt Lake City Cultural Olympians, Planned Parenthood Association of Utah co-sponsored and provided a PPGP speaker for a symposium on healthy cities and placed billboard and newspaper ads based on our “Dream” public service announcements to build a deeper awareness of the Planned Parenthood global mission.

▼ made America’s voice heard, with messages from tens of thousands of supporters to the White House and members of Congress, calling on lawmakers to fund international family planning programs and remove restrictions like the global gag rule.
GOAL 5

Planned Parenthood will control a successful, diversified media company that creates and distributes the most popular, critically acclaimed health and sexuality programming.

IN PURSUIT OF GOAL 5,

PPFA provided much-sought information about sexual and reproductive health and U.S. health policy to our clients, the general public, students, policymakers, the media, Web surfers, and researchers.

Planned Parenthood recognizes that the real, substantive discussion and debate on our issues frequently begin in the media — long before any votes are cast or major policy decisions are made. As a result of our successful, proactive, reproductive health and rights agenda, journalists look to Planned Parenthood as an insightful leader and trusted resource. We work with elite media organizations every day to define the issues, advance our agenda, and expose the opposition.

Through a broad range of national and international outlets, Planned Parenthood carries the voice of America's pro-choice majority to elected officials, opinion leaders, and the public. Highlights of PPFA President Gloria Feldt's many high-profile media placements last year included a live debate on contraceptive equity on CNN from the steps of the Capitol; a Roe v. Wade anniversary press conference covered by C-SPAN; numerous appearances on O'Reilly Factor and Hardball; Fast Company and CNNfn interviews about the Planned Parenthood Vision For 2025; frequent interviews on NPR; and a Washington Post article exposing so-called "crisis pregnancy centers." We also generated significant national media coverage on other issues key to safeguarding Americans' health and rights, including emergency contraception, comprehensive sexuality education, advances in reproductive health technology, and the critical importance of judicial appointments.

Reaching out to millions of diverse individuals through the Internet, plannedparenthood.org logged more than 650,000 visits per month. This PPFA Web site ranks number seven in the world for number of visits to a health Web site, and offers:

- contact information for every Planned Parenthood affiliate
- comprehensive information about all aspects of sexual and reproductive health, including a growing list of Spanish-language titles and links to other Spanish-language resources
- Planned Parenthood Action Network "action alerts" and Legislative Action Center, providing activists with an easy way to contact members of Congress via e-mail, fax, or U.S. mail
- an online store for purchase of Planned Parenthood sexual and reproductive health resources and products
teenwire.com

The fully confidential, award-winning PPFA Web site, teenwire.com, is a place where teens can safely and comfortably get the answers they need to questions about sex, relationships, and lifestyles. Internationally recognized as an important resource to help teens prevent pregnancy, stay healthy, and make responsible choices, last year teenwire.com won the 2002 Webby Award for Best Health Web Site.

During that year, teenwire.com received approximately 360,000 visits a month and replied to more than 400 personal inquiries a week via confidential e-mail. It introduced interactive sexual health games and, to better meet the needs of our visitors, we redesigned the En Español, In Focus, Hothouse, and Now Playing sections. Working closely with Planned Parenthood educators nationwide, teenwire.com created educational products and resources for school curricula.

Client Education Publications

PPFA produces and distributes award-winning print and online publications that are vital to people’s ability to make responsible choices about their sexual and reproductive health. During the past year, Planned Parenthood affiliates and other health care providers distributed more than two million PPFA pamphlets, including 10 newly published titles: Are You Safe in Your Relationship?; Is Lunelle Right for You?; Aborto Quirúrgico — Preguntas y Respuestas; Elegir el Aborto — Preguntas y Respuestas; Las Examinaciones Ginecológicas Le Pueden Salvar La Vida; El SIDA y el VIH — Preguntas y Respuestas; Sexo — Más Sabroso y Saludable; Teniendo Tu Periodo Menstrual; and La Visita y el Examen Ginecológico — Tu Llave a la Buena Salud. We also published Creating Hope for Humanity — Planned Parenthood, Our Story and Vision for the Future, an illustrated booklet that presents our history and Vision for 2025.

National Advertising

Through collaboration with the Affiliate Advertising Advisory Group and many other affiliate members, PPFA produced a unified, consistent, positive, and proactive image for Planned Parenthood for ever-increasing use in a wide range of advertising efforts across the country.

National and local placement of Planned Parenthood advertising campaigns continues to support and strengthen Planned Parenthood efforts nationwide. In the past year, Planned Parenthood ads have appeared nationally in the most popular magazines for women, teens, and activists; and locally on college campuses, in community newspapers, and on highway billboards.

Award-winning television commercials were distributed by satellite for PSA placement across the country — the Spanish version of “What Do I Know About Me?” reached five million viewers; and PPGP’s “Dream” reached 29 million viewers, due in part to 75 placements on national CNN Headline News.
IN PURSUIT OF GOAL 6,

the Planned Parenthood Diversity Initiative

- created a federation-wide Diversity Strategic Plan for 2002-2006
- coordinated diversity workshops at Planned Parenthood regional conferences, a national board diversity retreat, and a managerial workshop for national staff, and sponsored a Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender (LGBT) Diversity Workshop
- conducted 12 affiliate diversity trainings
- created a database for the National Organization Vendor Diversity Project
- published Envisioning Peace through Diversity — a newsletter about Muslims and Arab-Americans, and Enhancing Cultural Competence: Welcoming the LGBT Community, a tool kit to help Planned Parenthood health centers enhance cultural competence

PPFA Clergy Advisory Board

The PPFA Clergy Advisory Board leads a national program to increase public awareness about the spiritual, ethical, and moral dimensions of reproductive choice and to encourage clergy and lay religious leaders to support the Planned Parenthood mission, Vision, and programs by joining the PPFA Pro-Choice Religious Network. The network has more than 2,000 members who receive the newsletter Clergy Voices twice a year. Last year, we

- produced the Clergy Advisory Board Statement on Comprehensive Sexuality Education, which was endorsed by more than 1,350 individual clergy and lay leaders across the country, as well as by the Central Conference of American Rabbis, the Justice & Witness Ministries, the United Church of Christ, the United Church of Christ Coalition for Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Concerns, and the Unitarian Universalist Ministers Association
- hosted nearly 25 appearances at Planned Parenthood events by Dr. Daniel Maguire, president of the Religious Consultation on Population, Reproductive Health and Ethics, PPFA Clergy Advisory Board member, and author of Sacred Choices: The Right to Contraception and Abortion in Ten World Religions. Maguire's contributions have encouraged affiliates to engage members of their local faith communities.
Planned Parenthood will be a significant catalyst for the development and universal dissemination of new reproductive technologies.

IN PURSUIT OF GOAL 7,

Planned Parenthood has provided safe and early medical abortion using mifepristone to more than 25,000 women, through 132 health centers, managed by 63 affiliates.

With the support of The Educational Foundation of America, the Open Society Institute, The David and Lucile Packard Foundation, and an anonymous donor, we

- trained affiliate staff
- tracked utilization (Planned Parenthood is the only national organization that tracks utilization and success rate of mifepristone. Data collected supports the safety and effectiveness of this important abortion option.)
- published a newsletter — Mife Matters
- provided legal advice and counseling to help affiliates increase access to medical abortion in their communities
- implemented a public awareness campaign
- provided funding opportunities for affiliates to expand and improve their medical and surgical abortion services

Mifepristone Awareness Campaign

"It's about choice, it's about privacy, it's about time..."

To promote awareness of the availability of medical abortion, PPFA last year distributed Mifepristone Awareness Campaign print and radio ads to affiliates for placement in their local media markets. We awarded grants of $10,000 to five affiliates to cover costs of ad placement as well as creative strategies that use other advertising materials. We collaborated with the Hispanic Radio Network, to produce and air a Spanish-language public education initiative about mifepristone and other women's health care issues.

The PPFA Nurse Practitioner Program

The PPFA Nurse Practitioner Program, recognized as the industry standard, prepares registered nurses to become women's health nurse practitioners. Last year the program

- graduated 23 nurse practitioners
- trained 35 advanced practice clinicians to perform colposcopic examinations
- hosted more than 400 nurse practitioners, nurse-midwives and physician assistants at the 26th Annual Post Graduate Seminar for Nurse Practitioners in Women's Health Care

Planned Parenthood Condom

The Planned Parenthood Condom was in great demand by PPFA affiliate departments of education, marketing, development, client services, and community and public affairs. Our biggest challenge of the year was keeping supply up to the pace of demand.

Beginning May 2002, the condom packaging included a new, exclusive "smart" number — 1-800-800-PLAN. It directs customers to the nearest Planned Parenthood health center, and because it is a designated number, we will be able, in the future, to evaluate its usefulness in helping our condom users find their way to Planned Parenthood for services.
GOAL 8
Planned Parenthood will be an authoritative voice on bioethical standards related to reproductive health and sexuality.

GOAL 9
Planned Parenthood will build the largest donor and citizen activist base of any social movement in this country.

IN PURSUIT OF GOAL 8.
PPFA national staff, who are recognized authorities on all aspects of reproductive health, from research and technology to patient care, public information, education, and health care policy
▼ established, in collaboration with affiliates, a Clinical Research Task Force to expand their capacity to participate in clinical research
▼ produced the Genetics Dialogue, an Internet-based program for learning and discussion of the complex issues regarding cloning technology
▼ expanded and streamlined PPFA clinical guidelines for medical abortion, allowing more women to access mifepristone
▼ developed and obtained timely approval for PPFA guidelines for two new contraceptive options — NuvaRing® (the Ring) and Ortho Evra® (the Patch), allowing affiliates to offer these products as soon as they were on the market
▼ participated in the NIH-sponsored Bethesda III and American Society for Colposcopy and Cervical Pathology Consensus Conferences
▼ created improved national guidelines for cervical cancer screening and management

IN PURSUIT OF GOAL 9.
PPFA continued to build a formidable grassroots presence throughout the country. Our 700,000 donors support our local, national, and international agendas. Our growing national Action Network, which numbered 300,000 individual activists last year, responded with rates as high as 25 percent to our network activations. And 75 affiliates now have immediate access to this network of activists. Affiliates have inspired 600,000 more activists to join their networks.

Vox*: Voices for Planned Parenthood
A nationwide program committed to energizing and mobilizing a new generation of pro-choice Americans, Vox increases young people's awareness of current threats to reproductive health and rights, mobilizes them in support of reproductive freedom, and cultivates their long-term involvement with Planned Parenthood and the pro-choice movement. Last year we ▼ expanded our network of pro-choice college and university groups to more than 80
▼ funded 12 affiliates to initiate or expand local campus outreach efforts
▼ coordinated student activism in support of two highly visible campaigns — emergency contraception awareness and equitable insurance coverage of contraception
▼ hosted appearances by PPFA president Gloria Feldt at colleges and universities nationwide

Power the Promise: The Federation-wide Campaign
Planned Parenthood has launched a six-year, $340 million federation-wide fundraising campaign that combines the resources of Planned Parenthood affiliates at local and state levels and the nationwide and international reach of the national organization. The campaign will strengthen the federation and the global reproductive health movement through the following:

- public policy efforts to advance pro-choice, pro-woman policies nationwide
- a social marketing initiative to change attitudes and encourage healthy sexual behavior
- information technology to offer women and men online access to crucial reproductive health education and services
- service delivery efforts that support low-income women
- international programs to promote and secure reproductive rights and services worldwide

(Federation-wide Campaign, 212-261-4663)
Our broad base of committed donors provide nearly 90 percent of the national organization's revenue and more than 20 percent of affiliate revenue — evidence of our powerful grassroots support.

GOAL 10

Planned Parenthood will be acknowledged as one of the 10 best places to work and volunteer.

IN PURSUIT OF GOAL 10,

the PPFA Leadership Institute joined forces with the Affiliate Resources and Consulting Group and redefined its mission and vision. To advance the federation's guiding mission in strengthening leadership directly at the affiliate level, the Leadership Institute provided up-to-date leadership development information and skill-building opportunities — critical professional growth for affiliate board and staff leaders. Last year we hosted

- the day-long conference, Everyday Heroes, for affiliate CEOs and board chairs during the Annual Conference
- three-day workshops for affiliate managers in Florida, Louisiana, and Texas
- two new CEO orientations and two CEO/Chair Partnership-in-Leadership workshops

Famous Faces

More than 300 high-profile leaders in the arts and entertainment industry are volunteer members of the PPFA Board of Advocates (BOA). Their public support for the PPFA mission was an extremely valuable contribution to advancing Goal 10 during the last year:

- For the second year, Kristin Davis chose to designate PPFA for funds raised from the Sex and the City online auction
- Giancarlo Esposito, Ana Gasteyer, and Wendie Malick presented Planned Parenthood Annual Conference Maggie Awards honoring the arts and entertainment industry. The event was sponsored by Glamour magazine.
- A grant from V-Day, the global movement to stop violence against women and girls (founded by Eve Ensler, author of The Vagina Monologues) supported the development of Every Woman Safe and Healthy, an affiliate program on intimate partner violence.
- Planned Parenthood posters, pamphlets, and condoms were placed in the television shows Dawson’s Creek, Law and Order: Criminal Intent, Law and Order: SVU, One Life to Live, Six Feet Under, and The West Wing.

- PPFA President Gloria Feldt made her primetime debut in the drama First Monday.
- Comedian Lewis Black told USA Today's one million readers that sexually transmitted infections are "no laughing matter" and directed readers to plannedparenthood.org.
- Byllye Avery, Julia Child, Blythe Danner, Peter Frampton, Al Franken, Marcia Gillespie, Ellen Goodman, Kathleen Turner, Cicely Tyson, Sarah Weddington, and Alan Zweibel attended affiliate events nationwide to recruit new advocates and generate revenue.

BEHIND EVERY CHOICE IS A STORY

"I will one day leave this world for the next, and I will ask my maker's forgiveness regarding many things, but preventing the birth of a child I had no way of providing for will not be one of them. Who am I? I am your daughter, I am your best friend, I am your neighbor, your sister, your wife, your future mother. And I have a story..."
— Mandy, age 34

Mandy's is just one of the many heartfelt stories of outrage, passion, dedication, endurance, and vision collected in PPFA President Gloria Feldt's book, Behind Every Choice Is a Story, which will be published in 2003 by the University of North Texas Press.

An unforgettable chronicle of the life-changing reproductive choices women, men, and teens have made every day for generations, Behind Every Choice Is a Story assembles letters written to Gloria by patients, teachers, doctors, teenagers, and mothers. Their stories illuminate some of our most basic human needs, joys, and concerns: love, sex, pregnancy, health care, and family planning.

Behind Every Choice Is a Story affirms the fundamental human right to control our bodies, our destinies, and our dreams. This profoundly rich tapestry of personal journey, commentary, and memoir will inspire readers to see how the world can indeed change — one heartfelt story at a time.

As Gloria writes, "Telling our stories challenges the disconnect between our real lives and the restrictions set by our institutions... when you hear the story of a woman whose life was saved by access to reproductive health services, dogma and debate go out the window."

Behind Every Choice Is a Story also traces Gloria's personal journey from the dusty oil fields of West Texas, to a Head Start teacher and activist in the civil rights and women's movement, to her current position as PPFA president and her standing as one of the most influential voices in the reproductive freedom movement.

“Inspiring yet harrowing, Behind Every Choice Is a Story is that rare book which is as compelling as it is important. Through the prism of her own life and letters written by others, Gloria Feldt weaves a piercing depiction of the battle for reproductive choice into a political fabric which threatens to deny choice outright to the next generation of women. Her message is unmistakable — act before it's too late.”
— Richard North Patterson

is a movement driven by donors who are changing the world. From the start, PPFA has been supported by individuals and organizations that share the conviction that everyone has the right to choose whether and when to have a child. In its earliest days, the work of Planned Parenthood was funded by Margaret Sanger's own family and friends. Today, you carry on that grand and generous tradition.

Since 1916, when Margaret Sanger founded the nation's first birth control clinic, Planned Parenthood supporters have rallied passionately to this cause. Because of donors like you, family planning has become a part of every day life, forever expanding the hopes and opportunities of women and their families.

Today, your support is the momentum behind the fight to ensure access to safe reproductive health care, both in the U.S. and around the globe. From the struggle for medically accurate sex education, to challenging the global gag rule, to the enactment of contraceptive equity legislation in 20 states, your commitment continues to shift the status quo and change the world.

In spite of the economic and political challenges of last year, your unequivocal commitment to reproductive health care resounded more clearly than ever. With your voices, your votes, and your gifts, you have moved us closer to a world in which every child is loved and wanted and every woman is in charge of her own destiny.

We thank you, and we salute you!

"No other organization does so much to address today's most pressing issues, both in the U.S. and around the world — helping young people come of age safely and responsibly, preventing the spread of HIV, and strengthening society by allowing people to choose to have smaller families of loved and wanted children. "When I found myself in a position to make a significant charitable gift, I knew it had to go to Planned Parenthood. Planned Parenthood was there for me, and I want to help make sure it's still there for the next generations."
For years, we have firmly believed that if the world population increases without bounds, all other problems are insignificant. Because of this, we have long supported Planned Parenthood and their educational efforts. We feel every child should be wanted and planned for, not just happen.

Jan and Judy Novak, New Mexico Heritage Club member
"As someone who cherishes our environment, I believe the planet and the human race would benefit if people bore fewer children but spent more energy loving, nurturing, and educating each child they have."

When I was a young woman in my 20s, hoping to find a good job, a prospective employer told me that he wouldn't hire me because I would probably get pregnant. That was how it was in those days. Women suffered in so many ways because of a lack of reproductive choices. Now I fear that many young people may not understand the significance of our gains, or how much there is to lose.

Marilyn Boyd, West Virginia Heritage Club member

“"I remember vividly the day a friend and I went looking for our local Planned Parenthood clinic and got lost. We were teenagers and a little scared, but determined to do the right thing — to get birth control and the information we needed to be responsible.

“We found our way to Planned Parenthood and got the help we needed, just as tens of thousands (millions?) of other teens, then and now, have done. I work with young people on a college campus, and I know what an incredibly important role Planned Parenthood continues to play in the lives of young people who want to make the right choices about their sexuality and their lives. That is why I have included PPFA in my will — it is simply too important not to be there for future generations.”

Laura Perman, Pennsylvania Heritage Club member

has always depended on the participation and leadership of volunteers in advancing reproductive rights and health services in the U.S. and around the world. Several affiliated forums support the work of Planned Parenthood volunteers, connecting their commitment and passion to the programs that rely upon their guidance to flourish.

The Planned Parenthood Action Fund

LUCIA RIDDLE, Chair

The Planned Parenthood Action Fund is an independent, nonpartisan, not-for-profit organization formed as the political arm of Planned Parenthood Federation of America. Established in 1989, the Action Fund engages in educational and electoral activity, including voter education campaigns, grassroots organizing, and legislative advocacy. The Action Fund evaluates members of and candidates for Congress on issues of key importance to the Planned Parenthood mission and publishes a voters guide to give the public the information they need to make important election decisions. The Action Fund played a key role in educating and mobilizing pro-choice swing voters and helped choice become an important issue that moved voters in the 2000 election. Donors who support the Planned Parenthood Action Fund are integral to ensuring that our vision for the future will be reality. For information, please call (212) 261-4692.

The Planned Parenthood Alumni Association

BETTY ANDERSON, Chair

The PPFA Alumni Association was founded by dedicated women and men who wanted to continue to fulfill the Planned Parenthood mission after they completed their board terms. Calling upon that vision, the Alumni Association harnessed the decades of leadership and commitment of former board and committee members to preserve and promote reproductive freedom and choice. Last year, to honor and strengthen the vital role of Planned Parenthood volunteers, the Alumni Association awarded $41,000 in grants to seven affiliates for projects that expand or rely on the work of volunteers. The alumni international endowment also awarded grants to support PPFA international programs through FPFA. Continuing to lend their leadership, some alumni serve on the committees of the Federation-wide Campaign. Others proudly raise their voices through editorials in their own communities. As invaluable, long-term members of the Planned Parenthood family, alumni also continue to support national programs through their financial generosity.

The Planned Parenthood Foundation

DOUGLAS F. SCHOFIELD, Chair

The past year was pivotal for the Planned Parenthood Foundation, which grew in size and scope while refining its mission on behalf of the Federation. Four new trustees joined a cadre of dedicated foundation veterans and contributed their unique expertise and ideas to the foundation board’s fundraising focus. This synergy culminated in the group’s first-ever, full-day board retreat at which the foundation formalized its collective commitment to the Federation-wide Campaign and trustees’ individual leadership was enhanced. Meanwhile, the foundation provided separate grants for PPFA general operating activities, for an increased foundation endowment, and for Planned Parenthood affiliates to add and improve mifepristone services. These generous awards exemplified the board’s critical role in addressing current priorities, advancing nationwide initiatives, and ensuring that the Planned Parenthood vision for the future is realized.
Planned Parenthood Federation of America, Inc., is a member of the International Planned Parenthood Federation (IPPF), comprising family planning associations in more than 180 countries.
